No Theory, Says Mayor
I had not seen you communicating to Chief said the Mayor for something like a week and have thevidence no theory on which to accuse him of anything. But there are some things that I will say. Referring to the opportunity to go to Chief Blyden a man whose devotion to duty could not be exceeded. In his trial and examination he was not asked any questions. Money could not reach him nor any other improper influence. He was absolutely incorruptible.
The witness Murphy said the Mayor saw him lying in the chair with his feet stretched out upon a bench. Then a few minutes later a doctor getting in the way the launch went out and the Mayor saw the body in the chair. He told the Chief that was the end of the day. There was no Chief there. That is all he knows.

Chief Blyden did not carry a revolver. He left it in a cafe. This fact was proved yesterday when Chief Blyden was examined by the jury. The revolver was ordered by Blyden to be placed in a trunk in which the Chief spent the last few hours. After leaving the trunk the Blyden left the revolver in a trunk in which he spent a day and a night.

YOUNG BIGGY WAS OVERCOME BY NEWS OF FATHER'S DEATH

SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 2. — The ten-year-old son of the late John J. Biggy, who was drowned in San Francisco Bay Monday night, is told his father died on the steamship Governor which arrived in the port last night. The boy did not know of his father's death until he heard passengers discussing it on the ship. The boy wept freely, but decided to stay with the ship which left for San Francisco this afternoon. The little fellow was named William Biggy, Jr.

Committee of Safety

As soon as the success of the movement was established a number of prominent citizens held a meeting and formed a committee of public safety for maintenance of order in Port au Prince is now in the hands of this body. General Legitime, president of the provisional government, was at one time president of the Republic.

The fact that Nord Alexis, minister of the interior, had been disgraced him at the last moment did not come as a complete surprise. Their loyalty was suspected and the decision to remove him last two or three days ago was clearly what might be expected.

No Shot Fired

The mission was directed by General and member of the Senate, a remarkable fact that not a shot was fired in the actual explosion. The soldiers of Nord Alexis said that the bomb had the upper hand and they quickly let it be seen that they had no intention of starting a fight. The warships would have been much bloodied. The presence of the American sailors Des Moines and the French cruiser Desbrosses has been a restraining influence.

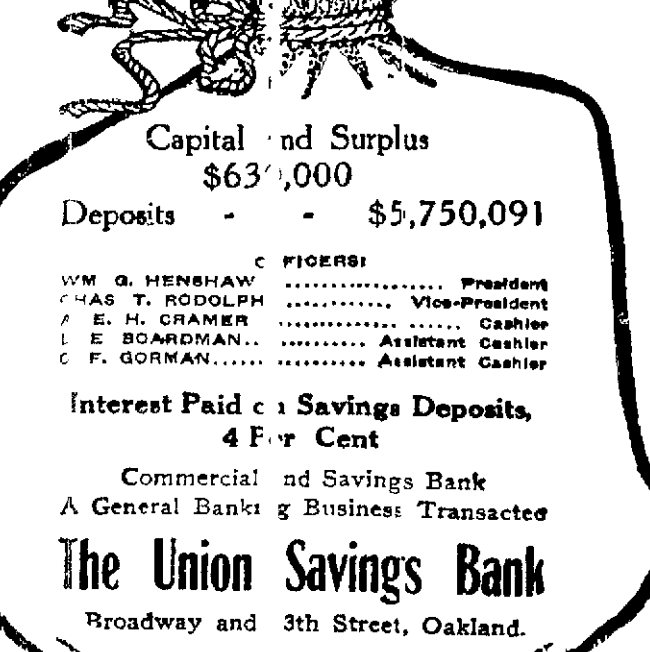

The citizens are in possession of a neutral policy and no great political action is expected. The bodies of men killed are being supplied and the fact that they

Creates No Surprise

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—The news of the establishment of a provisional government in Haiti created little or no surprise at the State Department. The policy of the United States, covering a long term of years, has been to proceed very slowly in the recognition of provisional governments, as it has been the policy to wait until it could be seen that the government had the support of the people and was able to perform all necessary governmental functions. Acting upon this program, it is not likely that the United States will be in a hurry to recognize the government of General Legitime.

STOCKHOLDERS OF PORTUGUESE HOLD BANK TO BE SUE

Receiver Edoff of California Bank Prepares to Take Action in Court.

Suit to enforce their liability will be brought within a few days against the stockholders of the California Bank. The suit is being prepared by Attorney George E. Church, representing James P. Edoff, receiver of the bank, to whom has been assigned eighty per cent of the claims of the depositors.

The receiver has no power to bring suit against the stockholders, but as the assignee of the depositors he can act in this capacity. At a meeting of the stockholders' committee held September 15 a circular letter addressed to the depositors was framed and was issued to all who had claims against the bank. November 15 was set as the last day on which claims might be assigned to Edoff and only those who have done so, and thereby have become parties to the suit which he is about to bring, can profit by it.

Must Recover Shrinkage

The committee estimated that about 15 per cent of the indebtedness of the bank would be paid by means of the money raised by the receiver and that the shrinkage of 35 per cent would be estimated as the amount to be sued for. This estimate Receiver Edoff believes to be correct.

Assignments amounting to $937,000 had been made to Edoff at the time of the closing of the bank. The liability of the stockholders has been estimated at $12 per share and already many of the stockholders have made assignments of their shares to Edoff and several thousand dollars have been added to the funds in his possession in this way.

Because of several legal points not yet decided in what court or courts the suits against the stockholders will be filed nor on what date proceedings will be instituted, but it is understood that some of the suits will be filed within a few days.

WHEELER MAY GET A CABINET PLACE

Californian May Be Made Taft's Secretary of Commerce and Labor.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Washington seems to be satisfied that California is to have a place in the cabinet, and since the name of George Knight has aroused opposition, William H. Wheeler has been suggested as the man who may be chosen by Taft to represent the Pacific Coast in his official family.

Wheeler has distinctly made good here. He is in high favor with President Roosevelt, and is regarded favorably by the President-elect. His training in the post of assistant secretary of commerce and labor would fit him to take into the secretaryship if Secretary Strauss should lay down the portfolio, for he would doubtless qualify in some other post, as he has shown himself to be adaptable.

UNIVERSITY CLUB GETS QUARTERS

Top Floor of Hotel St. Mark Will Be Organization's Club Rooms.

The new University Club will soon be fully established. Quarters have been secured and a house-keeping is being planned. The following letter to members is self-explanatory.

"Dear Sir: I am pleased to inform you that the long pending negotiations with the St. Mark Hotel Company have been completed. The committee on headquarters, after considerable effort, has finally come to terms with the hotel company. Eight rooms on the top floor of the St. Mark Hotel have been leased by the club for a period of two years with the option of renewal for two additional years. The committee on headquarters has reported to the board of directors that the rooms will be ready for occupancy after the necessary alterations have been made, on or about the 10th day of December. Postals will be sent to each of the members notifying them of the date of the opening. The formal house-warming will take place three or four weeks later and will be arranged for by a committee named by the board of directors. The by-laws adopted at the last regular meeting of the club are now being printed, a copy of which will be sent you within a few days. The board of directors regrets that there has been so much delay in procuring permanent quarters, but nevertheless feels that the time has been well spent in view of the very satisfactory arrangements made.

"Yours very truly,
"A. J. COOGAN, Secretary."

INSURANCE MEN MEET AT DINNER

Oakland Agency Staff of Prudential Company Gather at Banquet.

On Tuesday evening a dinner was given to the Oakland agency staff of the Prudential Insurance Company at the Alhambra Hotel. Covers were laid for twenty, and a most enjoyable evening was spent. Short talks were made by most of the men present, which were brim full of optimism.

The guest of the evening was Superintendent Johnson of the Prudential's San Francisco office. In his address to the men he brought out the fact that this company began its existence over thirty years ago, in a small way, and that by right methods and sound management had forged ahead until today it is one of the largest institutions in the world, having on its books over eight million policyholders and giving employment to upwards of 15,000 people throughout the country.

A rousing speech was also made by Superintendent A. J. Tucker of Oakland. The key-note of his address was the magnificent future for the company in Oakland. Everybody present agreed that this outlook was very encouraging, and that the prospects for an increased business looked good.

HALF MILLION IN MONTH'S BUILDING

Permits for November Show an Increase Over Those for October.

That there is no cessation in building activities in this city is evidenced by the report of the Board of Works for the month of November, permits having been issued for the construction of new buildings and for repairs aggregating a total of $535,153. This is an increase of $1,551 over the month of October. In October a total of 335 permits were issued for buildings to cost $526,322, while in November but 295 permits were issued, but at an increased cost of construction. According to the report of the board, 159 of the 233 permits issued last month were for new buildings to cost $194,263, while the remaining 113 permits were for alterations, additions and repairs to the amount of $331,959. The majority of these additions and repairs were made in the heart of the business district, notably at Fourteenth and Broadway and Fourteenth and Washington streets.

Tax Bills as Evidences Of Material Prosperity.

The collection of county taxes this year, which closed for the first installment on Monday evening, has illustrated in a marked manner the extraordinary growth of the population of the three cities on this side of the bay and their suburbs. It has also thrown light upon the changes which have taken place during the past year through the subdivision of large tracts of land, inside and outside of the cities, and the multiplicity of ownerships.

During no previous collection period has the county Tax Collector's office force had such a strenuous experience as it had this year. It has been required to handle thousands of bills in excess of the number handled during former collection seasons. Large areas of unimproved land located in and around the cities were, in previous years, each assessed in lump to one person. These have been subdivided into building lots since the county assessment of 1907-08 was made, and sold to home-makers who have since put substantial improvements on them. The result has been that the county Tax Collector has been compelled to make out and collect hundreds of bills on tracts which were previously covered by one bill in each case. These subdivided tracts have multiplied to such an extent that the number of bills issued to new owners have mounted into many thousands.

While the subdivision of large areas in the suburbs began in 1907, there has since been much more activity in that respect. And while the present year has been regarded comparatively—that is, when compared with the latter half of 1906 and the first half of 1907—as a quiet year in the real estate market, the county Tax Collector's office shows conclusively that there has been much activity in trading in outside city and suburban building lots, and the increased taxes collected on building improvements shows in a measure the extent of new building which has been in progress.

The community has had a general knowledge of the changes from casual observation. In every direction the laying out of new streets and the erection of new dwellings on tracts previously unimproved have been in evidence. In the county Tax Collector's office these changes have been crystallized, however, into the form of an enormous increase in the volume of office work which taxed its capacity this collection season to the limit. That the number of delinquents on the first installment this year is much less than in any previous year is also strong proof of the return of prosperity to the people of Alameda county generally.

The Agreement With Japan.

The agreement reached at Washington between Secretary of State Root and the Japanese ambassador, K. Takahira, regarding the policies of the two nations in the Oriental waters of the Pacific, is now officially announced by the publication of the notes exchanged by them. These notes accept and ratify, on behalf of Japan and the United States, five articles, as follows:

"First—It is the wish of the two governments to encourage the free and peaceful development of their commerce on the Pacific ocean.

"Second—The policy of both governments, uninfluenced by any aggressive tendencies, is directed to the maintenance of the existing status quo in the region above mentioned, and to the defense of the principle of equal opportunity for commerce and industry in China.

"Third—They are, accordingly, firmly resolved reciprocally to respect the territorial possessions belonging to each other in said region.

"Fourth—They are also determined to preserve the common interests of all powers in China by supporting, by all pacific means at their disposal, the independence and integrity of China and the principle of equal opportunity for commerce and industry of all nations in that empire.

"Fifth—Should any event occur threatening the status quo as above designed, or the principle of equal opportunity as above defined, it remains for the two governments to communicate with each other in order to arrive at an understanding as to what measures they may consider it useful to take."

Although the agreement is described as merely a memorandum of a mutual understanding between the two governments, it is, to all intents and purposes, a treaty and will have the weight and force of such a document. If it had been a treaty, however, it would require ratification by the United States Senate to make it binding. In the form in which the agreement has been consummated it is assumed by the administration that the Senate's ratification is not necessary. Whether the Senate will take this view of the subject or not remains to be seen, for, in the very nature of things, it assumes international obligations over which the Senate has apparently concurrent jurisdiction. Why the administration should have set a precedent for the evasion of the Senate's prerogative is not apparent unless it has been deemed desirable to avoid anything in the nature of a possibly irritating debate over the relations of the two nations which a treaty might evoke.

Revising the English Education Act.

The differences which have existed between the Church of England and the Nonconformists of England and Wales as the result of the passage of the Balfour Education Act several years ago are in a fair way of being adjusted. Since the act went into effect, the Nonconformists have passively resisted its operation because of the provision compelling the religious instruction of children according to the tenets of the established church. This resistance was more strongly manifested in the principality of Wales, whose people are almost wholly Nonconformists, although strong opposition to the act was shown in England also. In Wales the opposition took the form of an open rebellion and a general refusal to respect the law and levy or pay taxes for the support of the schools. At a recent conference between representatives of the established church and one hundred Nonconformist members of Parliament a compromise was reached whereby the latter agreed, with only six dissentients, to support a government bill amending the act which removes most of the objections raised by the Nonconformists. The differences between the church and the Nonconformists are thus summarized:

"The church offers to surrender all her schools to the local authorities, and to accept the two principles of popular control and no tests for teachers. In return she asks the Nonconformists to concede the right of entry by denominational teachers in all council schools and permission for the head teacher to continue to give church teaching in the transferred church schools.

"The Nonconformists, with some reluctance, have agreed to concede the right of entry in council schools when a sufficient number of parents ask for it. But they dislike the idea of allowing the head teacher to give denominational teaching even in church schools, because they say that they will perpetuate the domination of the church in the villages.

"The Archbishop of Canterbury agrees that in council schools it may be reasonable to debar the head teacher from giving church instruction. But he asks that the assistant teachers shall be free to volunteer to do so."

The latter proposal of the Archbishop of Canterbury constitutes now the chief cause of disagreement and the most momentous of the remaining obstacles to a settlement, as the Nonconformists are irreconcilably opposed to it.

The reports which have reached Tacoma of the discovery of a heavily mineralized gold-bearing quartz ledge which has evidently been the feeder of the rich placers worked in the Tanana, Alaska, district, opens up a new era in gold mining in Alaska, and gives the industry a permanency which it did not previously possess in the interior of the territory. Gold-bearing quartz has been mined, of course, for many years on the coast of Southeastern Alaska, at Douglas island and Juneau, where exist the largest bodies of low grade gold-bearing quartz, so far as known, in any part of the world.

The catastrophe in the Marianna coal mine near Pittsburg, Pa., in which approximately 150 miners lost their lives, shows that colliery inspection and ventilation have not by any means reached a state of perfection. The calamity was caused by the explosion of gas, which had accumulated in the mine workings. This fact proves conclusively that the ventilation of these workings was imperfect, and the mine inspectors and the management must have known of the dangerous condition which this accumulation of gas created, and assumed all the risks of operating the property without making any special effort to correct the trouble.

The distribution of the rainfall this season continues to favor the California farmer and brighten the prospects for a more abundant harvest and a more prosperous year ahead for the State than it has experienced in a decade.

CHINESE INTEGRITY GUARANTEED IN THE U. S.-JAPAN PEACE PACT

Nations Seek Equal Opportunity for Commerce in the Pacific

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Notes exchanged between the United States and Japan, "declaring their policy in the Far East," which have been the subject of correspondence between Secretary Root and Ambassador Takahira for some months, were made public at the State Department last night.

Accompanying the declaration are letters from Takahira and from Root, the former expressing the belief that a frank avowal of the aims, policy, and intention of the two countries in the Pacific would not only tend to strengthen the relations of friendship between the two nations, but would materially contribute to the preservation of the general peace, and the latter declaring that "this expression of mutual understanding is welcome to the government of the United States."

Terms of Five Notes

The five separate notes are as follows:

1. It is the wish of the two governments to encourage the free and peaceful development of their commerce on the Pacific ocean.
2. The policy of both governments, uninfluenced by any aggressive tendencies, is directed to the maintenance of the existing status quo in the region above mentioned, and to the defense of the principle of equal opportunity for commerce and industry in China.
3. They are accordingly firmly resolved reciprocally to respect the territorial possessions belonging to each other in said region.
4. They are also determined to preserve the common interests of all powers in China by supporting, by all pacific means at their disposal, the independence and integrity of China and the principle of equal opportunity for commerce and industry of all nations in that empire.
5. Should any event occur threatening the status quo as above designed, or the principle of equal opportunity as above defined, it remains for the two governments to communicate with each other in order to arrive at an understanding as to what measures they may consider it useful to take.

Takahira Defines Position

Ambassador Takahira, in a statement issued subsequent to the making public of the notes declared they were simply a reaffirmation of what was declared by the two governments in 1902, and that it was "something like a transaction between trusted friends." The ambassador added:

"The substance of the instrument which has already found its way to the press, cannot be exhaustively stated. It contains in this and other countries and these remain hardly anything to be said."

"As will be seen in that wording the notes are simply in the form of a declaration and are not a treaty or agreement. They are simply a reaffirmation of what was declared by the two governments years ago, for a definition of the understanding then existing."

Pact Between Friends

It is, however, to be noted that the notes, which are being received by the governments of such world standing as those of the United States and Japan will have a great importance in the carrying out of their common policy.

"Japan has entire confidence in the great moral strength of the United States government and the latter fully trusts in the strong good faith of the Japanese government, as has been amply proved by past experience. At this respect it is something like a transaction between trusted friends."

The substance of the declaration was furnished in advance of its signing to the various governments interested in Chinese affairs and cordial expressions of sympathy and support came from them.

Some changes were made in the draft of the letters passed between Root and Takahira as originally written, copies of which had been sent to Europe.

Letter From Takahira

Ambassador Takahira's letter as finally adopted was as follows:

"Sir, The exchange of letters between us which has taken place at the several times which I have had the honor of holding with you, has shown that Japan and the United States are holding important relations in the Pacific region of the Pacific Ocean, and that the governments of the two countries are animated by a common aim, policy and intention."

"Believing that a frank avowal of that aim, policy and intention would not only tend to strengthen the relations of friendship and good neighborhood which have been established between Japan and the United States, but would materially contribute to the preservation of the general peace, the imperial government has authorized me to express to you an outline of their understanding of that common aim, policy and intention. (Here follow the five articles of the declaration.)"

"The foregoing outline accords with the policy of the government of the United States. I shall be gratified to receive your confirmation."

"I look with opportunity to renew to your excellency the assurance of my highest consideration."

ARCHITECTS RESPONSIBLE, IS SCHOOL DIRECTORS' CHARGE

Faulty Construction of Local Buildings Laid to San Francisco Firm

Sutton & Weeks, the San Francisco firm of architects who drew the plans for the Washington and Lincoln schools, are held entirely responsible for the faulty construction of the buildings, according to the resolution adopted by the Board of Education last night, and unless the architects begin work within ten days to remedy the defects, the board will employ other architects and proceed at once with the work, holding the original designers of the schools liable for any expenses incurred.

This action was taken by the Board of Education following the report made a week ago by the grand jury, which made a careful investigation into the charges of poorly constructed schoolhouses.

The resolution adopted last night states that Albert Sutton and P. Weeks, each as individuals, as the firm, are responsible for defects referred to in the report of August 21, by the commission, consisting of H. Myers, J. D. Galloway and Robert W. Hunt & Company, on to state that work must be commenced within ten days to remedy these defects and unless this is complied with the board will order the work done and hold Sutton & Weeks responsible for all sums of money expended.

The notice was signed by P. H. Edgington of the Board of Education and was served on Sutton & Weeks at their offices in the Savings Bank building, in San Francisco, this morning.

HERBY'S CHARGES WERE UNFOUNDED

District Attorney Finds That Franchise Complained About Has Not Been Granted.

District Attorney W. H. Donahue announced yesterday afternoon that the charge of N. J. Herby against the six councilmen was unfounded, unwarranted and that he refused to take the matter before the grand jury.

Herby claimed that six members of the Council voted in favor of awarding the Southern Pacific Company a franchise without the legal preliminary of advertising the action in a newspaper. From the investigation made by Donahue it appears that the franchise has not been granted and that the only action taken by the Council was to refer the matter to the City Attorney and the Board of Public Works. This is in accord with the provisions of the city charter.

NOVELTY THEATER, SUNDAY, DEC. 6

MRS. EVA FAY

THE MOST ATROCIOUSLY IMITATED ARTISTE ON THE AMERICAN STAGE.

That Tony Lubelski has entered the vaudeville field to stay is an assured fact. That he proposes to afford his patrons the highest class and most expensive acts procurable seems to be undoubted in the announcement that Mrs. Eva Fay, that celebrated artiste, is to appear next week at the Novelty. She will cause a furor and sensation among the mystic circles in Oakland. Perhaps no more celebrated personality exists today than this Mrs. Eva Fay. She has amused, amazed and puzzled the sage and scientist alike throughout the civilized world. People in Oakland will be liable to confound Mrs. Eva Fay with Anna Eva Fay, who appeared here some few years ago. As a matter of fact, she is a daughter-in-law of Anna Eva Fay. Anna Eva Fay became immensely interested in her son's wife. In fact, she recognized a young woman entirely out of the ordinary; a native of the country where the occult sciences are developed to the very highest degree, a daughter of a woman of the races of Yogi and Mahatma, might really possess some of the real quality of mind reading which others assimilated. Three years after her marriage to the son of this wonderfully clever woman, Eva Fay appeared before the public. This same public recognized at a glance that here was a young woman who, if a trickster, was far in advance of all her predecessors; it there was really any such thing as mind reading and other manifestations of occultism, she was better qualified to reveal it than those born without such advantages. Man's love of mystery is inherent and great. When he sees that which he fails to see materially, he really likes to regard it as occultism, or something supernatural. Otherwise he would have to acknowledge that other persons are cleverer than he. That he does not want to do and will not, hence the success of the appeal to his reverence for the mysterious. As something special Mr. Lubelski has arranged for Mrs. Fay to give a special matinee on Thursday, December 10, for ladies only, no man being admitted under any circumstances.

MRS. GUNNESS ON REAL LOVE

"I THINK so much of you, who are all alone up there, but I must hope that the Lord holds His hands over you and protects you and us until we soon meet. That is real love."

LAFORTE, Ind., Dec. 2. — The astounding love letters of Bella Gunness, the most cunning woman criminal in American history, who killed eleven persons for money or caprice and buried their dismembered bodies on the Brookside Farm, have been revealed.

In these letters is the record of Bella Gunness' methods, written to Andrew Helgelien, North Dakota farmer and stockman, whom she lured to her lair after two years' correspondence, whom she drugged with chloral, killed and buried.

With the blood of many human beings on her hands she posed in her letters as a model of humility.

She was the lone, unprotected widow with a comfortable little fortune who must needs seek protection from among the hardy men of her own race.

Posed as Clinging Vine in Letters to Victim

She was the clinging vine in her letters to Andrew Helgelien. She needed him. She sent his four-leaved clovers and her heart's love. She subtly roused his jealousy with tales of the perfidious Lamphere.

She sent him pressed roses and wrote tearfully of the Norwegian Christmas. She drew pen portraits of herself and Andrew, and unconsciously by the blazing stove in her back parlor next to the slaughter chamber, where she cut out all her victims. In the meantime she murdered, cut up and buried her niece, Jennie Olson.

She writes of heaven and eternal bliss, the reward of well spent lives, meanwhile sharpening her dissection.

He Led a Double Life SHE SAYS, AND NOW She Wants His Estate

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—Alleging that for religious reasons the late Sigmund Rosenwald, a wealthy importer of tobacco, led a double life, a woman who says she is Mrs. Ella M. Rosenwald, his widow, has begun a contest of his will.

Mr. Rosenwald, who died at his country home at Elberon, N. J., Aug. 11, made bequests of local charities aggregating $11,000, while to his lawyer, Benjamin F. Elstein, he left $10,000. To two relatives of his brother's wife he gave legacies of $3,000 and $500, and the residue of the estate to the Jewish orphanage.

His sister, Mrs. Mathilde Goldberger, of No. 57 East Sixtieth street, and to his nephews, Benno Neuberger and Benno Rosenwald.

In her petition the contestant alleges that the will filed for probate was not the last will and testament of Mr. Rosenwald; that Mr. Rosenwald was not of sound mind when it was made, and that it was procured by "fraud and undue influence by the residuary legatees."

Her case has been set for trial Dec. 7, when Mrs. Rosenwald will name the witnesses who will prove the testator had two homes in this city. One was at No. 41 East Sixtieth street, and the other was in an apartment house on the east side, where, it is alleged, he lived with the contestant as Mr. and Mrs. Davenport.

Mr. Rosenwald's heirs deny any knowledge of the woman who claims to be his widow.

Mr. Rosenwald was fifty-one when he died. The woman who claims to be his widow is thirty. Mr. Rosenwald was a director of the Jewish Orphan Asylum and a vice-president of the United Hebrew Charities.

other to art, but none of those named seems to fill the general requirements of the period.

Suffragist Not Wanted

The woman for the place must not be a faddist, lecturing to suffragettes or languishing in ecstasies over the animadversions of long-haired poets, or the eccentricities of do-nothing painters. Her acquaintance with the world must surpass all of that, though she must be keen to recognize merit in any individual where real merit exists. In going carefully over the catalogue of suggested eligibles no one is so thoroughly equipped for the place as Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt. Mrs. Astor herself was one of the first to acknowledge the claims of the Vanderbilts as a future power in the social annals of America. Not as she herself said, because their great wealth gave them immense prominence in the fiscal world, but because their other more intrinsic qualities constituted them persons to be reckoned with socially. Logically Mrs. W. K. Vander-

"Altogether Too Much of Cunning in This Land"

Yes, I will try and get all the Fall work done, just so that when you get ready up there you will not have to return again, as it will be altogether too long. I have now thrown away all the other answers I got and keep all of yours in a secret place by themselves. I will show them all to you when you come here, as I prize them so highly; but I prize the writer more highly, and when I get to know you I will set the writer above all others, as such a man I have not found among the Norwegians in America.

There is altogether too much cunning and humbug in this land. Honesty, sincerity and righteousness last the longest. Where they are found on both sides, then everything will be all right.

I have told you of everything as it really is, and this you will find when you come. You can be sure that you are heartily welcome. Well, now I must close for this time and go and milk. Hope soon to hear from you. From your friend,

BELLA GUNNESS.

Mrs. Gunness Describes Herself

In her next letter Mrs. Gunness describes herself to the Dakota farmer:

Mr. Andrew K. Helgelien: Dear Friend: I was in town today to mail your letter I received one from you—many thanks for same. Every time I receive your letters I wish there were more of them. I am sure your pain or worry comes from an honest and sincere feeling and I am sure there is no one else who could feel that way. I never believed there was a person like you in whom a woman could put her trust.

MRS. GUNNESS ON FRIENDSHIP

"I feel good to be honest, sincere and natural and then to find a friend who has exactly the same traits. There are many false people in this world."

Health is the best thing we can have, my dear friend. Now my dear, when you leave and telegraph, if you can, when you come to Minneapolis or St. Paul, and then I may have the permission to be the first one to welcome you to Laporte and I will be at the depot with my gray pony. I am a rather stout woman and will have a nice buggy with a checked apron.

I am a genuine Norwegian, with brown Norwegian hair and blue eyes. You must remember that you will get a meeting that comes from the heart.

Even if the world has been a little hard with me I have just the same kept my good nature, and I can still take pleasure in my life.

But come alone; do not take any one from up there with you here before we have become a little acquainted. It would be rather awkward at first when there are strangers about, just at first, my dear.

Heartiest regards from your best friend, BELLA GUNNESS.

Writes She Doesn't Think He'll Leave

In this letter Mrs. Gunness continues urging and planning for Helgelien to visit her:

Nov. 6, 1908. Mr. Andrew K. Helgelien: Dear Friend: When I was in town yesterday to mail the little letter I wrote you, I had the great pleasure of receiving a long and very interesting letter from you, which was very welcome, and for which I send my heartiest thanks.

If you only would soon be through up there and would leave Dakota and come here. I do not think you will leave me after you have first come here; that I am sure of.

Safest and Most Secure to Bring Everything

When one moves away it is safest and securest to have everything with one, and it will save a lot of worry and you will not have to think about attending to things so far away. Remember the advice I gave you in regard to your money. Do not tell anything—even to your nearest. They could soon tell it to someone else, and it seems as if one cannot fully trust anyone nowadays, especially when one is going away. Let it be, as I said, a little secret between us two and no one else, not so? We will hold our little private affairs to ourselves. I am sure that you are a good and faithful friend who never fails. Dear good friend, I will never let you go. You can be sure of that. I set you higher in my esteem than ever the king and I hope so to hear that you are coming, so I must meet you. Many thanks and hearty regards and good-bye for this time, my dear friend, BELLA GUNNESS.

Now take good care of yourself.

Writes That He Needs "Good Long Rest"

More plans for her future life with Helgelien are contained in the letter:

Nov. 8, 1908.

Mr. Andrew K. Helgelien: Dear Friend—I received your letter today from Sioux City, and heartiest thanks for same. I have thought so much about you and how you got along with traveling with so much cattle and I was so happy when I got your letter and read that you were all right. My dear, it was very possible of you to go right back and hurry and get through so you could come here. I hope now that it will not take so long.

And I like the poor woman that I am, sit here outwardly calm, but with every fibre of my being calling on you. Realize that it is right now, so read these words at night, when you can feel as I do, after a day of duties done as best I could.

I am tired and wish for quiet rest, and the heart of the one man beating near me. Oh, I could only half tell. Will you think me silly? Forgive me for this, but I feel so much happier now.

"It Feels Good to Be Honest and Natural"

In this letter Mrs. Gunness emphasizes her loneliness:

Nov. 12, 1908. Mr. Andrew K. Helgelien: Dear Friend—Today I received an interesting letter from you. Heartiest thanks for same. I have not received such dear, true letters.

It feels good to be honest, sincere and natural, and then to find a friend who has exactly the same traits. If a woman is ever so honest, good and faithful, what good does it do when one is unfortunate and comes in contact with falsehood and deceit to be dealt. It is too bad that you have had the same experience as I have.

There are so many false people in this world, plenty of them who are low enough to lie and everything else, especially when they are a little fortunate and can afford to have it a little better.

You have worked hard for what you now have and it is but right that you should receive the benefit of it. You are safer, and you have everything in your own hands, and you can then use your own earnings for whatever you desire.

MRS. GUNNESS ON HONESTY

"THERE is altogether too much cunning and humbug in this land. Honesty, sincerity and righteousness last the longest. Where they are to be found on both sides everything will be all right."

This you will find is true, my dear friend. I will never let you go. I set you higher in my esteem than ever the king and I hope so to hear that you are coming, so I must meet you. Many thanks and hearty regards and good-bye for this time, my dear friend, BELLA GUNNESS.

"Come for Good Never to Go Away"

Helgelien in this letter is told to prepare never to return to Dakota:

Mr. Andrew K. Helgelien: Dear Friend—When I received your letter today from Sioux City, and heartiest thanks for same. I have thought so much about you and how you got along with traveling with so much cattle and I was so happy when I got your letter and read that you were all right. My dear, it was very possible of you to go right back and hurry and get through so you could come here. I hope now that it will not take so long.

You have worked hard for what you now have and it is but right that you should receive the benefit of it. You are safer, and you have everything in your own hands, and you can then use your own earnings for whatever you desire.

GIRL'S TRIP WITH MAN STOPPED BY HER MOTHER

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 2. — "You shall not steal my child. You shall not take her away from me."

Calling for assistance to prevent her daughter being taken away by a married man, Mrs. A. J. Tayman of 507 North Seventh street created a sensation in the Reading Terminal.

With her right hand she clung to the coat sleeve of William Palmer, who lives on Cherry street, near Seventh, and with her left she kept a firm grasp of the shoulder of her 17-year-old daughter, Margaret. A boy, 6 years old, the son of Palmer, hung timorously to his father's hand.

At the City Hall Mrs. Tayman said she had suspected her daughter of spending too much time with Palmer, and had heard the two intended to run away together. She went to the station and stopped them, she said, as they were about to board a train for Allentown. Two tickets for Allentown were found in Palmer's pocket.

Both the girl and Palmer denied any intention to elope. The girl admitted that she had been doing the housework for Palmer while his wife was visiting in Allentown. She said Palmer was taking her to Allentown for a visit with his wife, and that she intended returning in a few days. Palmer was placed under $500 bond for a further hearing on charges of enticing a minor, preferred by Mrs. Tayman. The girl was taken to home.

Smart Set Anxious to Discover Social Leader to Take Place of Mrs. Astor

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. — Despite all arguments to the contrary, the passing of Mrs. Astor has left a vacancy in the social world that must be felt for some time to come, unless there arises a woman to fill in the breach. Mrs. Van derbilt is in the breach. It is all very well to scoff at the necessity of a nominal head or leader for affairs social, but the domination of some strong individual is as necessary in Mayfair as it is in politics or the church. In the older capitals of the world, from which we draw our inspirations and profit by the examples of experience, there have been social leaders to whom the lesser lights have looked for incentive and the catch of correctness. Mrs. Astor filled this role in America. She ruled the society of the city and conquered the place as thoroughly as Attila or Caesar or Napoleon conquered. To fill Mrs. Astor's place, of course, the whole roster of fashionable women has been sounded. This one seems qualified by this particular attribute: that one by some other. One leans to literature, one to music, another to art, but none of those named seems to fill the general requirements of the period.

Suffragist Not Wanted

The woman for the place must not be a faddist, lecturing to suffragettes or languishing in ecstasies over the animadversions of long-haired poets, or the eccentricities of do-nothing painters. Her acquaintance with the world must surpass all of that, though she must be keen to recognize merit in any individual where real merit exists. In going carefully over the catalogue of suggested eligibles no one is so thoroughly equipped for the place as Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt. Mrs. Astor herself was one of the first to acknowledge the claims of the Vanderbilts as a future power in the social annals of America. Not as she herself said, because their great wealth gave them immense prominence in the fiscal world, but because their other more intrinsic qualities constituted them persons to be reckoned with socially. Logically Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt is the only person to step into the shoes of the lamented Mrs. Astor.

Broad in Mind

She is a woman of splendid qualities, which have been broadened by her life in London, Paris and on the continent, where she has mingled only with that great society from which is drawn inspirations. To this must be added the fact that she is the wife of the scolar member—the actual head—of one of the greatest American families which, of itself, might well be considered sufficient to give her the premiere place. Then, on the other hand, she has two young daughters just on the threshold of the world, to whom the assumption of this arduous but interesting role of leadership would be of inestimable value. They are charming girls, endowed with many of the splendid qualities that distinguish their mother, qualities which were rapidly recognized and admired by their stepfather. True, within the year, owing to the unfortunate

WOMEN GIVE SECRET CHARITY 108 YEARS

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 2.—Avoiding all publicity, doing its good work unknown even to many of its own members, and aiding people whose pride is of the keenest and blood of the bluest, the Female Association of Philadelphia just completed another year of activity, and holding its annual meeting last Wednesday now claims the ripe old age of 108 years.

For the purpose of giving secret aid to those members of old-established Philadelphia families who have fallen upon days of misfortune, this association has labored in this city and has stored away substantial funds to meet all of its emergencies.

The beneficiaries of this charity are women who would prefer the pangs of want to entering an asylum or any sort of institutional refuge. Frequently they even refuse the proffered help of the Female Association, and the task of the officers is a most delicate one.

Miss Mary M. Vaux, of 1715 Arch street, is president of the Female Association. Miss Sallie Vaux is secretary, and Miss Helen Hunter, treasurer.

The beneficiaries are distributed proportionally to the needs which are established after careful investigation and are distributed in the form of yearly incomes from the general fund.

Mother Fractures Skull TRYING TO DODGE HER DAUGHTER

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. — Mrs. Mary Gavanni of 378 West Twelfth street is dying in St. Vincent's Hospital from a fractured skull received by a fall from a fire-escape at 774 Greenwich street, where she had crawled to avoid her daughter, Mary, and her husband.

According to the police, Mrs. Gavanni had been told by her husband that she was to be put in a fire-escape at 774 Greenwich street. Ignoring the order, Mrs. Gavanni left her home and made for Greenwich street. Her daughter and husband followed and saw her enter No. 774.

Mary, the daughter, followed and asked for her mother. She made a search from room to room, but the mother was not to be found, but the girl failed to notice that a blind had been pulled down over a window which overlooked the fire-escape.

She started from the house, and on the sidewalk found the unconscious form of her mother. Mrs. Gavanni was taken to the hospital, where the doctors said she hadn't much chance to recover.

GRAND JURY FILES 3 BILLS

LATHAM INDICTED ON PERJURY CHARGE

Former Chauffeur for Ruef Accused and Tomalty Held for the $60,000 Shortage in City Treasurer's Funds.

(Special to The Tribune.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2.—The Grand Jury filed into Judge Sturtevant's court at 9:40 this morning, and formally returned the three indictments voted on at 5 o'clock last evening against Alex Latham, formerly chauffeur for Abraham Ruef; Jas. C. Tomalty, bookkeeper under Treasurer McDougald, and G. E. Stancliffe, who is held in New York accused of the robbery of Mrs. Palmer, proprietress of the St. Rose Hotel.

The bonds in the first two mentioned cases were fixed at $10,000 each, while those of Stancliffe were placed at $7500. The indictment against Latham charges him with perjury, alleged to have been committed two weeks ago while on the witness stand in Judge Lawlor's court in the present trial of Abraham Ruef.

Contradicted Story

At that time he stated that he did not take certain trips in an automobile with Ruef, and that he had made affidavit to that effect and had so testified merely to please Detective William J. Burns. To counteract this testimony, numerous witnesses were placed on the stand, including the stenographers of Judge Lawlor's court, C. W. Cobb, law partner of Francis J. Heney, and Miss L. H. Condon, stenographer for the Oliver Grand Jury. Latham was served with the warrant at the county jail, where he is now being held as the result of a police court charge placed against him by Burns.

Held for Embezzlement

Tomalty is accused of embezzling upwards of $60,000 from the treasurer's office, and also has a charge against him in the police court which will probably now be dismissed. Stancliffe was captured in New York by private detectives on a description sent by Mrs. Palmer, who asserts that he assaulted and robbed her on March 23, taking $1800 in cash and $1400 worth of jewelry. He has waived extradition, and a detective will bring him to this city.

of the season. Its boldness, its simplicity and its originality all told in its favor. Here at least was a young American playwright brave enough to dramatize a Harlem flat and its occupants; he had taken his theme right out of every day life on the upper West Side and played his dramatic cards so well that he held his blasé first night audience in his hand and not only interested them intensely, but gave them in one act both a great surprise and a real thrill. Young Mr. Walker arrived last night and Managers Wagonhals and Kemper are to be congratulated upon

"Paid in Full," Wagenhals & Kemper's new production, will be seen at the Macedonia Theater on December 7 to 13. Action Davies, the well known writer, says of the play:

"After all, if the play is really the thing then there's a new thing in town. It's called 'Paid in Full,' by Eugene Walter. It has taken anchor at the Astor Theater and there it is going to remain for an indefinite period. 'Paid in Full' scored an immense success last night—one of the sensational successes the uncommonly fine cast with which they carried 'Paid in Full' to its great success. 'Paid in Full' can speak for itself, and more than that, it is one of those plays which pays its audience with full measure."

Sarah Perryman and W. L. Gibson carry the leading parts in the play.

DYNAMITE SAFE; GET $14,000

BURGLARS MAKE THEIR ESCAPE IN AUTO

Robbers Bar Doors of Houses Near National Bank Before They Commence to Blow Open Vault.

PEPPERELL, Mass., Dec. 2.—Fourteen thousand dollars in cash was secured by burglars, who early today blew open the vault of the First National bank here. The thoroughness and skill with which the work was performed have convinced the police that the burglars were professionals.

Three men were in the party and although they were seen entering an automobile, all trace of them was lost. The bank vault was blown open about 8 o'clock, at which time the last of three explosions was heard by Ernest Tarbell, who was sleeping next door.

Door Barred

Tarbell armed himself with a revolver and started to investigate, only to find the door of his own house barred outside. He succeeded in breaking open his door and reached the bank just as the robbers were leaving in an automobile.

After shouting an alarm, Tarbell fired several shots at the burglars, but there is no indication that any of them took effect.

A large quantity of gold stored in one of the interior recesses of the safe was untouched, save for a single $10 coin, which was missing.

Before beginning their work, the burglars barred the street doors of all the buildings in the vicinity. The first two explosions were so effectively muffled that the noise was heard only a short distance from the bank, but apparently the burglars became excited and in preparing the third explosion, neglected to take precautions.

Heroine at Fire Is Overcome by Smoke EXPLOSION STARTS A BLAZE

Mrs. Mary Hart Helps to Save Linda Vista Apartments From Destruction.

MRS. MARY HART, Heroine of Fire.

Narrow escapes from death and heroic acts on the part of Mrs. Mary Hart attended a destructive fire in the Linda Vista Apartment House, a three-story and basement frame structure at 90 East Fourteenth street, caused by an explosion of gas in the basement this morning.

Peter Brady, an employee of the Oakland Gas, Light & Heat Company, was at work fixing a meter, assisted by Michael Williams. Brady tested the pipes with a lighted candle and found but little escape of gas. He put out his candle and opened a plug to make an attachment when, he declares, J. A. Larson, lessee of the building, entered the basement smoking a pipe. The gas ignited from a spark from the pipe, a serious explosion attended by flames being the result.

Brady's eyebrows and mustache were singed and before he, Williams and Larson could get out of the basement the woodwork in the basement had ignited. Larson denied that he was smoking when he entered the basement, which leaves the cause of the fire somewhat a mystery. The damage is estimated at $6000, covered by insurance.

Woman's Brave Work

When the flames broke out Mrs. Henry Hart who, with her husband, occupies a flat on the ground floor, bravely attempted to extinguish the flames. She threw painful drops of water into the fire, and left her post only when she was overcome by smoke. An alarm was turned in by a passing policeman, but the flames had gained such headway before the arrival of the department that the building was gutted. Most of the contents were carried safely into the street. Those occupying flats in the building were Deputy Sheriff Ed Sweeney and wife, Mr. and Mrs. George Leaven, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hoagland, V. Vetter and wife and Paul Rordan and wife.

Occupants Driven Out

Shortly after the flames broke out the building was filled with heavy smoke and it was only after great efforts that the occupants succeeded in saving their belongings. Vetter joined with those fighting the flames and was slightly singed at the face and hands. Brady, however, had the narrow escape, but he returned to his work at the gas plant in the basement as soon as the flames were under control. The Linda Vista Apartment House was but recently finished, and the occupants have recently moved in. They have taken up temporary quarters with friends and neighbors.

WILLIAM H. NIETCALF IS A PROUD FATHER

On Monday morning, November 30, at 10:18, a son was born to the wife of William H. Nietcalf, at the Metcalf home, 215 Franklin street. The little chap is a fine, healthy boy and a grandson of Victor H. Nietcalf. No name has been given the young man as yet.

MARK TWAIN 3 YEARS OLD. REDDING, Conn., Dec. 2.—Samuel Clemens (Mark Twain) passed his seventy-third birthday quietly at his home here yesterday. As was his custom, Clemens took his morning ride, passing the remainder of the day with his household.

BURGLARS KEEP UP WORK

LOOT OFFICES IN BANK BUILDING

Escape With Gold Dust and Other Articles of Value From Quarters of the Calaveras Con. Mining Co.

The offices of the Calaveras Consolidated Mining company in the First National Bank building, at Fourteenth street and Broadway, were looted last night by burglars whose acts in the recent past have occasioned the police much uneasiness. This is the third burglary to have been committed during the past week within a stone's throw of police headquarters. The burglary of a millinery store on San Pablo avenue, east of the city hall, and the theft of coin from a flower store diagonally across Fourteenth street from the police station were the other crimes referred to.

A Bold Crime

The robbery of the mining company's offices netted the thieves a total of $213. The articles stolen consisted of a small bottle of gold dust, a gold watch, gold chain, a quantity of postage stamps and a fountain pen. The burglary was a particularly bold one owing to the fact that a watchman is regularly employed in the National Bank building, which is in the very heart of the business district.

Woman's Home Robbed

Mrs. Agnes D. Chalmers of 720 Sixteenth street, was also the victim of thieves last night. Burglars entered her home last night by means of a window which had been left partially open, a watch, rings and other jewelry all to the value of $60 being stolen.

Servant Girl Accused

N. Black, proprietor of the Dundas House, 308 San Pablo avenue, complains of the theft of two silk skirts and a silk waist from one of the rooms in the place. Black points the finger of suspicion at a servant girl who recently left his employ but whose identity is withheld.

STARTLING TESTIMONY AT CLOSE OF THE REA TRIAL

Witness States That Carl Moller's Slayer Spoke Braggingly and Profanely of the Killing.

Damaging testimony was introduced by the prosecution in the John Rea murder trial this morning, before the case was closed ready for argument. Key Morgan, the youth who was with Rea at the time of the shooting, recalled a statement he said he heard Rea make after the shooting.

$100 Diamond Ear-Rings for Some Lucky One.

The Great Fer-Don to Present Handsome Gift Friday Night to Some One in Attendance at Columbia Theater Performance.

Fer-Don has many unique ways of advertising himself with the people of Oakland, and last week and a handsome pair of diamond ear-rings to be given away this coming Friday night. This popular man is making a marvelous success here in Oakland. His productions at the Columbia Theater, given by a colored company of thirty performers, are high-class singing shows that any one who enjoys songs and music will surely appreciate. In addition to the big show, to which an extremely low price of admission is asked, and his many charitable works here in town, he has a faculty of throwing hundreds of money away among the people in the audience.

OFFICES, 1069 BROADWAY.

Fer-Don has made it possible by the purchase of valuable medical secrets from the treasure houses of European Medical Science for all to be helped, to be loved and perhaps ultimately cured by the European Medical Experts and Bloodless Surgeons. mingled with a host of other cures at the Broadway show, the office of the great Fer-Don and his staff of European Medical Experts and Bloodless Surgeons are those who can thank the doctors for the help received for a storing hearing, for the removal of tumors, gallstones and for the healing of paralysis and for prolonged life. At the Columbia Theater hundreds are daily attending the big singing show and listen with rapt attention to the great Fer-Don, and witness the wonderful, miraculous demonstrations that take place. Fer-Don's experts invite all hip-kick diseases, tumors, cancers, crippled children and all who suffer with chronic diseases to call. Gallstones removed in the short space of time of six hours at the longest. Rheumatism and paralysis treated quickly by the European method.

As the crowd who call to see the wonderful European Experts and Bloodless Surgeons are so large, a fee of one dollar is charged for examination and consultation. This is to militate against the life curiosity-seekers who, were not asked, would take up the time of these eminent experts to the exclusion of all others who were vitally interested in the results.

ment he said he heard Rea make after the shooting. This statement was: "I got somebody. Did you see the kid drop?" Morgan said he replied in the negative, because he was on the ground and could not see the objects on the march, which proved to be Carl Moller, the murdered boy, and his two companions. The witness said that Rea was positive that he hit somebody because he said he saw the grass part and one of the persons fall to the ground.

Strong Rebuttal

The defense had sought to prove yesterday by Rea's testimony that he did not see the boy he killed. The startling testimony of Morgan this morning was claimed by the prosecuting attorneys to be a strong rebuttal.

Character witnesses from Fresno testified this morning for the prosecution that Rea was a bad man. Deputy Sheriff J. W. Dumis declared that he knew nothing good about the accused keeper of the Alhambra Club, the preserve at Newark, and Joseph Plimont and Gus Lamond, saloon keepers, told the jury that they knew Rea's character to be bad. They stated that Rea had passed worthless checks on both of them.

Witness Missed Train

M. L. Hodgkins, the Fresno vineyardist who charged Rea with forgery and on which charge he was sent to San Quentin, was to have testified today, but missed the Owl train and did not arrive here in time to attend court.

Mrs. Rea, who with her tiny infant has been at her husband's side every day since the trial started, bowed her head and wept when the witnesses testified on the stand that the defendant had a bad reputation. Rea hung his head and leaned toward his wife and child.

Argument will be made by Chief Deputy District Attorney Phil M. Cuddy and Deputy District Attorney W. T. Satterwhite for the prosecution, and Attorneys L. Poeter Ashe and Phil M. Walsh for the defense.

SEEKS WRIT OF MANDATE. J. P. Norwood filed a petition yesterday afternoon for a writ of mandate to compel J. T. Bandfield, secretary of the Pillsbury Picture Company, to note upon his books a transfer of stock. Norwood complains that he purchased 5322 shares of stock in the concern and that Bandfield refused to make the necessary changes on the company's books.

DORANDO TO RACE INDIAN. NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—Pietro Dorando, the Italian Marathon runner who defeated John Hayes, winner of the Olympic Marathon, was yesterday matched to race Tom Longboat, the Indian, for $1 mile and 85 yards in Mason Square garden, December 15.

WIFE MADE BLOOD RUN, HE SAYS

BEAT HIM WHENEVER HE GOT HOME LATE

Ten Minutes Behind Schedule Time Meant Terrible Chastisement at Spouse's Hands He Alleges in Complaint.

Driven to desperation by a wife who threatened to shoot him and who beat him until blood flowed every time he was ten minutes late in returning from his work, Samuel A. Lovejoy, a bookkeeper living at 2836 Dwight way, Berkeley, was compelled to leave his home in New York on April 16, 1907, and come to California, where he now lives in peace according to the divorce complaint he has filed with the county clerk today.

After stating that he was married in New York where Mrs. Lovejoy now resides (in December 7 '89) Lovejoy goes on to relate a long tale of abuse at the hands of the woman he says would kill him if given an opportunity.

The complaint describes Mrs. Lovejoy as the possessor of an uncontrollable and vicious temper and an insulently jealous disposition.

Jealous of Him

All the troubles in the Lovejoy family sprung from the fact that Mr. Lovejoy believed his wife kept company with other women according to the complaint drawn up by the plaintiff's attorney. The accusation of Mrs. Lovejoy caused her spouse much grief and mental suffering, he states, and her treatment toward him evoked the enmity of his own parents and live-long friends. Lovejoy avers that because of the false charges made by his wife he was denied the association of his folks and friends.

In 1902, when the couple lived in New York, the complaint states that the "plaintiff's life was made a perfect hell on account of the false and untrue improper charges made by the defendant that this plaintiff kept company with other women."

Blackened Eyes

Lovejoy says his wife broke a looking glass over his head because he talked to his sister who had not been on speaking terms with Mrs. Lovejoy for some time. The complaint explains that Lovejoy's work kept him away from home between the hours of 8 o'clock and 10:30 o'clock p. m. and when he was a few minutes late at night because a train was delayed he says that Mrs. Lovejoy would fly into a violent rage and raise her voice so loud that it disturbed the whole neighborhood.

On many occasions, states Lovejoy, his wife would call his employees on the telephone to inquire of his whereabouts and ask them if he was keeping company with other women. This placed Lovejoy in an embarrassing and awkward position, he declares. On a little vacation trip to Lawrence, E. I. Lovejoy says his wife beat him until he had a pair of black eyes.

Made Blood Flow

On July 16, 1902, Lovejoy says that he and his wife were called to Maine to his father's bedside, where he was very low. While at the home of his aged parent Lovejoy says his spouse accused him of intimate relations with several respectable young women. The charge she made created such a disturbance that he was compelled to leave his father's deathbed and return to New York, where two days later he received word of his parent's demise.

Lovejoy says that in New York he was employed as a contract agent for the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company and was asked to attend the funeral of his former employer. He was late in arriving home after accompanying the remains on the train and when he did put in an appearance, he claims, he was searched and beaten until blood flowed from the wounds in his face inflicted by Mrs. Lovejoy.

He could endure his wife's cruelty no longer, he avows, and left New York on April 16, 1907, coming to California, where he says he is free from Mrs. Lovejoy's alleged numerous attempts to harm him.

MAY ABOLISH ALL AWNINGS OVER WALKS

Awnings which reach from the entrance of the outer edge of the sidewalk in front of restaurants, cafes and other places of business may soon be done away with in this city because of a protest filed this morning with the Board of Works against the maintenance of such an awning in front of the Maplewood Cafe, at 553 Eleventh street. The protest was filed by R. Mott and Miss S. I. Conliff, whose places of business adjoin the cafe.

The case in point was postponed a week, pending an adjustment between the parties to the controversy.

ALL IN READINESS FOR BIG DOLL SHOW OF THE WEST OAKLAND HOME

FUNCTION IS TO OPEN TOMORROW

Committees Put the Finishing Touches on Booths and Large Crowds Expected.

The past week has seen several gatherings of the committees, which have undertaken to make a success of the doll show to be held by the West Oakland Home for three days beginning tomorrow.

The decorating committee which has charge of the hall has completed its labors and the building is a mass of greenery and trim brightened and set off with red ribbons.

The refreshment committee will serve tea, coffee and coffee with an abundance of home made cake, sandwiches and similar supports for the inner man and inner woman visitor.

The committee in charge of the card table is quite enthusiastic and reports a fine collection of dainties and refreshments. All home made and currying the third as a token of the district love which prompted the contribution.

Little Workers

The little workers committee has a table all to itself and will have on sale all sorts of notions and pretty fancy articles. None of the little workers are more than twelve years old. Some of them are at this time only two or three days old. The committee reports that this has not been very exacting in its calls upon the little workers.

The committee in charge of the hand-drawn table reports that the majority of hand-drawn articles are hand-drawn or otherwise home made and will be sold reasonably and be great bargains.

The committee in charge of the fancy table has been particularly successful in its efforts. Crocheted shawls, hand made neckties and a hundred other kinds of fancy work made or donated by the free-hearted people of the city will make this one of the most attractive tables of the show.

Aprons Galore

The committee in charge of the apron table reports a splendid collection which includes not alone beautiful fancy articles of this character but those also that are suitable for cooking or general work.

The committee in charge of the boys' table expects its division of the hall to be thronged by the young hopefuls of Oakland for here will be shown all sorts of toys—mechanical, ornamental and useful—which boys can be expected to like.

The committee in charge of the mystery table is equally enthusiastic concerning its section. The members will have a large table which will be loaded with sealed boxes—many of which have been donated by society women and the business men of Oakland. Every box contains an article of the value of at least 25 cents. Many contain articles worth considerably more. They are sold at the uniform price of 15 cents. You pay your money and take your choice.

FURTHER DECLINE IN THE PRICE OF SILVER

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—The recent decline in the price of bar silver to 47½ cents per ounce, the lowest level in some years, is ascribed chiefly to falling off in the demand for the metal at home and abroad. In the domestic market the demand was greatly reduced by the industrial depression of the year.

A further decline in the price of bar silver occurred today when it was quoted at 47½.

WHARF ROOM NEEDED AT ONCE

Franklin-Street Wharf Matter Before Board of Works Shows Necessity.

The absolute necessity for more wharf room and water front improvements in general was evidenced at a meeting of the Board of Works this morning when the question is to the division of the Franklin street wharf between the L. F. Ridesout and the Oakland Transportation companies came up. This matter was before the City Council on three different occasions and was finally referred to the Board of Works as the proper body to adjust the difficulty. The board today took the matter under consideration. The members of the board will visit the wharf to determine whether there is room for both transportation companies.

A representative of the Oakland Transportation company was present at the meeting. He said that in his opinion the Ridesout company could not carry on its business if compelled to divide the wharf with the other company.

The Oakland Transportation people declare that there is room for both companies on the Franklin street wharf but the consensus of opinion is that even more wharf room is needed by the company now in possession. The statements of both transportation companies shows that the shipping business in this city is steadily on the increase and that more dockage facilities are an absolute necessity.

Sub-Treasury Cashier Testifies in Ruef Case

(Special to THE TRIBUNE) Dec. 2.—There is a conclusion of Abraham Ruef's case in the prosecution of his side of the case after their will present testimony at least to the extent of the examination. The chief of the supervisors' division is holding that testimony in a separate court. The examination of the case from 9 o'clock to 10 in the evening. The brief noon is 10.

Currency From Treasury

This morning the Sub-treasury stand and testified to the fact that the currency had changed from $100 on July 31 to $100 on August 21. He then went on to tell of the measures taken to prevent the circulation of the currency. He said that one thousand and a half in the high of the currency was in circulation on his day. He said that the currency was in circulation on his day. He said that the currency was in circulation on his day.

Does Some Figuring

The ex-supervisor said at one time that besides other money he had $3,000 of the California

Safe Deposit & Trust Company, which by Doder's figures measures 618½ cubic inches. According to the testimony of Burns today five thousand bills would measure 650 cubic inches and not one-fourth of the twenty-thousand $1 bills could possibly have fitted in his box. Burns stated that he could not be sure that the bills in Gallagher's box, which he had seen, were the same as those secured by Ford from him.

Attorney Charles P. Gale of Tiley L. Ford's office and Charles Francis, private secretary to William M. Abbott, were also called in Judge Lawlor's court this morning but gave no evidence of material value. It was rumored at the time of the noon adjournment that General Ford himself would be put on the stand this afternoon. His attorney Stanley Moore, was present this morning and conferred with the counsel for prosecution.

SLOT MACHINES TAKEN BY THIEF

After Mechanisms Had Been Robbed, However, Burglar Dropped Them on Street.

FRUITVALE, Dec. 2.—John Marshall's saloon on High street near East fourteenth was broken into and looted Monday night. Yesterday morning Marshall found two slot machines which had been taken from his store near the place. Both had been rifled. He said the machines did not have much money in them.

Constable V. C. Allen has been working on the case and says he has a suspicion as to the identity of the burglar. They are reported to be young men seen looting about the saloon late Sunday night before the place was locked up, which gave the officer his clue.

SUBMITS ARGUMENTS IN THE THAW CASE

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 2.—Argument on the appeal from the decision of the United States Court at Pittsburg which dismissed a writ of habeas corpus to bring Harry K. Thaw from Matteawan Asylum to Pittsburg to testify in bankruptcy proceedings was concluded today in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals. Former Governor Stone, counsel for the trustee for Thaw's estate, contended that the action of Judge Young of Pittsburg dismissing a writ issued by another court was irregular.

Asa Eld Gardner, counsel for the State of New York, declared that the writ was properly quashed and that the bankruptcy proceedings were without legal effect because Thaw had been adjudged insane.

KENTUCKY TO TAX S. P. RAILROAD

Company to Be Ordered to Pay $4,000,000 Into State Treasury.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Dec. 2.—Former Attorney General N. B. Hays is preparing an order at the direction of Judge R. J. Stout of the state fiscal court directing the State Board of Valuation and Assessment to assess and assess the intangible property of the Southern Pacific railroad according to the constitution.

The order means that the board must assess the property at $17,500,000 instead of $1,000,000 as has been the custom for years and that the railroad company must turn $15,500,000 into the state treasury amounting to $4,000,000 in round figures.

No Track in State

The Southern Pacific is a Kentucky corporation with its home office at Beaumont a suburb of Louisville and the case cannot be taken to the Supreme Court of the United States.

The attorneys in the company contend that as the road has no track in Kentucky the assessment should be nominal and in that way have prevented the assessment of the intangible property at its real value to years. If affirmed by the State Supreme Court the decision will drive the Southern Pacific from Kentucky.

TO AID CATTLEMEN

YOUNG THIEVES TAKEN FROM BOAT

Having Robbed Delivery
Wagon They Try to Escape
by Hiding on Launch.

(Special to The Tribune.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2. — Captured in what they thought was a secure retreat on a launch in a lonely part of the bay, four youths, who yesterday robbed a delivery wagon of the Potrero district, were taken into custody at 8 o'clock this morning.
Alfred Florence of 548 Page street, while delivering a package to a house in Kentucky street, left his wagon standing for about ten minutes. When he returned he found that it had been looted of all the rest of his parcels, and he immediately notified the Potrero station. Officers Monahan and Callahan were detailed on the case, and they tracked the robbers to a launch at Hogtown, Fifth avenue, South San Francisco.
At 2:30 this morning the police boat was pressed into service, and with the aid of Policemen Connor and O'Shaughnessy, the young men were taken into custody as they lay asleep in their bunks with their loot heaped up on the floor nearby.

NO MORE SOOT

Didn't you ever hear of American Block Coal? Haven't you been reading our advertisements?

You surely ought to know by this time that American Block Coal is unquestionably the only coal to burn.

It is the only sootless coal. It heats up a stove in a jiffy, warms up a bath in no time and does it all without any sort of trouble.

It's the easiest coal in the world to light. You can get up in the morning, put in a little paper and kindling and a shovel of American Block on top and your oven is hot enough for biscuits before you've finished dressing.

Everybody ought to burn it. It's ridiculous to be bothered with poor coal these days.

SOLD GREATEST NUMBER OF TAGS

MISS ZOE ACKERMAN,
Who was Awarded Trophy.

Miss Zoe Ackerman Awarded
Trophy for Making Largest Sale in Charity's Cause.

Miss Zoe Ackerman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Ackerman, of 1327 Myrtle street, was awarded the trophy for having sold the greatest number of tags on Oakland "Tag Day." She distributed 1328 tags, which amounted to $132.80. Miss Ackerman had the Chinatown district to cover. Her station was between Sixth and Eighth streets.

From early morning until dusk Miss Ackerman distributed her tags in the celestial settlement of this city.

At the meeting of the "tag" workers, held yesterday in the Key Route Hotel, a vote of thanks was tendered Miss Ackerman.

TALKS ON TEETH

BY The Rex Dental Co.
INC.

THE TEETH AND THE STOMACH

Poor teeth, poor stomach. Good teeth, good stomach. If most of the cases of so-called "Stomach Trouble" were traced to the teeth, you would find them directly related. You will hear people say daily, "My stomach is going back on me."

It is their teeth that are going back on their stomachs.
Correct the cause of the trouble, which in about 90 per cent of all cases of stomach trouble is poor teeth, and the trouble will disappear.

If the food is not properly masticated before it goes down into the stomach, the organs must double their work, and it will not do for long without a vigorous protest.

After a quick, painless and certain cure for such troubles.
We restore teeth.
If yours are loose, if some are missing, if you are wearing a partial plate or a torturing "bridge" we can be of help to you.

If you have two or more teeth left in either jaw, no matter whether they are sound, unsound, light or loose, we can, with our Alveolar Method, restore all your teeth to a sound, healthy condition, and give you back all you have lost, so that you will have as hard, some, good fitting, good acting teeth as you had before your trouble began.

For over two years we have been preaching this doctrine of teeth salvation to the public and have been making good on every promise made.
From hundreds of testimonials we shall select one showing what patient thinks of the Alveolar Method.

"I have many patients of mine in San Francisco to whom we are allowed to refer. There is no question of the strength of such evidence.
There is no better proof than that which comes from one who has spent his money with us."

Like His Natural Teeth

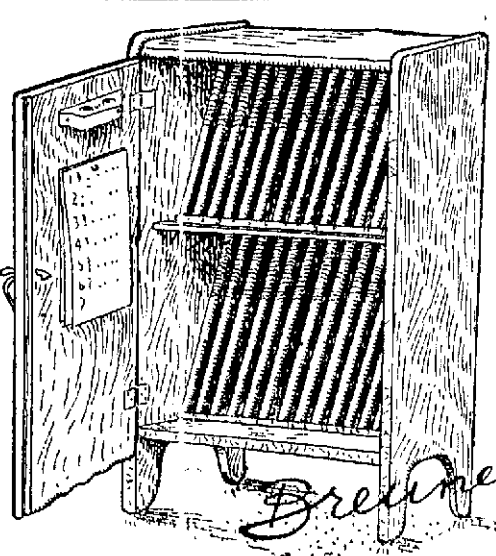

Rex Dental Co.,
Dear Sirs:
The Alveolar work is perfectly satisfactory and I am very glad indeed. I was fortunate enough to have the New Method inserted, for it feels just like my natural teeth and I know it is far superior to bridge work or plates.

Thank you for the great benefit you have given me. I am,
EDW. ANDERSEN.
If you are having teeth troubles come to our offices in the Pacific Building, Fourth and Market, and we will make a careful examination of your mouth free of charge.

It is not convenient for you to come at this time, send for our book, "ALVEOLAR DENTISTRY," which will be sent free to you.

After you read the book you will be ready to make almost any sacrifice to come to us, no matter where you live. Our patients come from all over America and Washington.

SUICIDE PACT IS REHEARSED IN COURT

Attorneys for Defense in Davis Murder Trial Seek to Implecate Star Witness of Prosecution.

OMAHA, Dec. 2.—When the trial of Charles E. Davis, charged with the murder of Dr. Frederick T. Rustin, was resumed today, the cross-examination of Mrs. Rustin, widow of the victim, was continued. Again the courtroom was packed.

Mrs. Abbie Rice, the star witness for the State, followed Mrs. Rustin, to recite in court for the fifth time the story of her life and of the suicide agreement made with Dr. Rustin, which only her lack of nerve prevented her from carrying into effect.

It was the policy of the defense to secure the exclusion of all that portion of the story tending to cast suspicion upon the defendant in the present trial, and in view of failure to do this, to endeavor in the cross-examination to create in the minds of the jury the question whether or not Mrs. Rice did after all fire the fatal shot or make away with the pistol after Dr. Rustin had shot himself in her presence.

Dr. Millard Langfeldt, who was a neighbor of Dr. Rustin and was called by Mrs. Rustin soon after the shooting of her husband, testified that the call came approximately twenty minutes after the shooting. After describing the condition in which he found Dr. Rustin, he said:

"I asked Mrs. Rustin, 'How did this happen?' And she answered that she heard a shot and found her husband outside. Nothing more was said on the subject."

During the cross-examination the defense tried to bring out that from motives of delicacy the witness refrained from inquiring into the circumstances of the shooting at the time, but the objections of the prosecution were sustained. A question as to whether the wound could have been self-inflicted was also ruled against.

NO TRACE OF THE MURDERER OF JURGENS

Detectors Admit That They Are Working in Dark and Have No Clue.

Although detectives are still at work in their effort to run down the fugitive who murdered aged Louis Jurgens in the St. John House, 407 1/2 Twelfth street Sunday night, they admit that they are working absolutely in the dark, not a clue having been uncovered which would point to the slayer's identity or his present whereabouts.

It is the general opinion at police headquarters that the fugitive, upon learning that he had probably fatally injured his victim, made his escape through the rear entrance of the place and walking boldly through the Inn saloon, made his escape into the street and then fled the city. So far as can be determined no person saw or heard the man or men enter or leave the place and not one of the roomers in the place heard a struggle in the room in which Jurgens was attacked and fatally beaten with a heavy bolt.

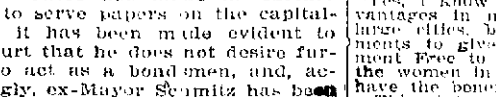

BOY BURGLAR WANTS TO GO ON PROBATION

SCRANTON WOMAN MAKES REMARK-ABLE DISCOVERY THAT PROVES TO BE A GREAT AID TO BEAUTY.

Broad Minded and Liberal, She Offers to Give Particulars to All Who Write Absolutely Free.

Della Ellison, of Scranton, Pa., seems to be the woman whose name shall go down in history as the discoverer of the secret of beauty. For centuries past women have realized that wrinkles not only marred their looks but also the beauty of their bodies, and with restless effort they have sought to stay the hand of time, which robs them of this most valuable charm.

Knowing that the beauty of women with deep lines and furrows must first be an equal battle with her younger and better looking sister, many resorted to annoying, and even dangerous experiments, trying to smooth their faces with chemical appliances. This new discovery, however, will do away with all these harsh measures, as the treatment is harmless and simple. It is said that aside from building up the system, the new beauty secret is a great aid to beauty, making the skin soft and velvety and beautifying the complexion. Many who have followed Mrs. Ellison's advice look from five to twenty years younger, and building up the number of wrinkles with no accompanying people are not slow at taking advantage of her generous offer.

It is a great pity that the discovery should be made by a modest little woman in Scranton when our large cities are full of beauty dealers and specialists who have sought in vain for a treatment that would turn back the clock of time and place the imprint of youth on the fast-fading lineaments of age, but far more surprising is the fact that she is a woman who is so young.

In speaking of the discovery she said, "I know there would be many advantages in some of the ways of the large cities, but I have made arrangements to give particulars of my treatment free to all who write me, so that the women in every city and town may have the benefits of my discovery."

This statement shows that she is both broadminded and generous, and all who wish to banish their wrinkles and improve their complexion should write her at once. Her address is—

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Lind in "The Dance of the Five Senses," at the Bell,
Wears Most Exquisite
Gowns.

Of genuine interest to the women of Oakland is the much heralded Lind, who is the star feature at the Bell Theater this week in "The Dance of the Five Senses." The richness of the most extensive wardrobe worn by this graceful dancer is exciting the comment of the hundreds of patrons of this popular theater. Nothing approaching these elaborate gowns has ever been seen on the stage in Oakland. They are all the products of Paris' best shops and marvels of creative skill whose value is something like $20,000. When one considers the work put on these wonderful fabrics, the richness of the many jewels used in the trimming, the elaborate hand-embroidery and the beautiful silks all hand-painted, it is hard to realize that even that sum could purchase them all.

"The Dance of the Five Senses," as originated by Lind, is one of the latest sensations, and combined with the elegant costuming and elaborate stage effects the result is more than satisfactory—it is dazzling and the audience is little prepared for the unexpected denouement at the curtain. Don't miss this feature, and remember there is a capital bill throughout. Leon Morris' Dog and Pony Circus in vaudeville is the best ever, and his wrestling parties who are the only and original ones, are creating much enthusiasm in their antics with the colored boy, Sambo, who attempts to get a half-Nelson on them.
